for international government officials visiting Harvard University who required lodging, event space, transport, food, and other amenities. Frank is unflappable. "Frank, I cannot thank you enough for all your hard work on my recent 50th birthday celebration. Your incredible attention-to-detail and expert planning made it a huge success and an evening I will never forget! I have never attended an event that literally took my breath away in amazement. Because of your diligence, all elements of the event came together flawlessly – it seemed all I did was show up! Your ability to touch each guest emotionally and create such a wonderful memory for my family and me was truly amazing. Afterwards, I received numerous thank you notes from friends for inviting them to 'the best party ever'. I look forward to you planning my next social event!" — Brian Yano, Social Event Client
